The Institute for Research in Technology (IIT) is a center within the ICAI School of Engineering at Comillas Pontifical University.

Its main aim is to promote research and training among postgraduate students in different technological fields by means of participating in specific projects of interest for the Industry and the Administration.

The purpose of the IIT is to make a contribution to society by transferring its research results.

The IIT:

Was founded in 1984 and it is a university-based research center.

It places academic excellence at the core of its activities, participating fully in the international research community.

It is self-financing and most of its work is carried out in collaboration with the industry.

It has more than 100 researchers and academic staff.

It is dedicated to applied research, doctoral and postgraduate education and the transfer of technology and knowledge to society

Josite'2019

The annual Workshop on Industrial Systems and Energy Technologies (Josite) aims to be a unique platform for young researchers and scholars who develop their activity at the IIT in collaboration with the industry sector.

The objective of the 14th edition of this workshop (Josite'2019) is to provide an adequate forum for the presentation of the latest research, the exchange of ideas, and to encourage the collaboration among all the IIT members and invited participants.

Following the initiative launched in the framework of the Aristos Campus Mundus 2015 Project, Campus of International Excellence, Josite'2019 is open to researchers from:

University of Deusto
Universidad Pontificia Comillas
Universitat Ramon Llull.
